

Mississippi Co. MO., Cemetery Locations

29 Dec 2025: There are a lot of blanks for locations: Blanks have been deleted.

County:MISSISSIPPI
Cemetery: Unknown
Out of Town: YES
Nearest Town: Bertrand
Road Number:

Directions: Go east on hywy 60 &62 and about a 1/2 mile out of the city limits , (in 1950) there was a cemetery most of the stones were taken and stacked up in a pile except one that was in concrete, I don't know the name of the cemetery, but there was some Gaty's burried there, maybe if some of their relatives by name of Peters or Rushing still living and still there maybe they will know of the cemetery. Also Bill Meeks might know of the cemetery

County:MISSISSIPPI
Cemetery: Anniston Cemetery
In Town:
Out of Town: YES
Nearest Town: Anniston
Road Number:

Directions: Off Highway 105 between East Prairie and Charleston. Turn onto Hwy. 75 to go to Anniston. Turn onto the first dirt road on right off Hwy. 75. Then turn left on first dirt road to left. The left turn will be made in front of big old white farmhouse. You can see the cemetery from Hwy. 75, but if you see it from the highway, then you've missed the dirt road turn off. I was just there last summer (2005) and can't remember the number sign for the first dirt road turn off. Also, the dirt road turn off from Hwy. 75 is well before you get into Anniston proper. Just remember, turn onto 75, first dirt road to right, first dirt road to left. The cemetery is on your left. Well kept. I have grandparents, great-grandparents, aunts and uncles buried there. It used to be the White Cemetery (my family name), then was given to Anniston as a public cemetery.

Armour Cemetery is in East Prairie. Armour Cemetery is actually barely south of Bertrand off Route B. Armour is many miles from East Prairie, so it would be much more accurate to say it is in Bertrand than East Prairie. I can say this because I grew up between Dogwood and Armour on Route B. Thanks in advance for your kind attention to these two matters

County:MISSISSIPPI
Cemetery: BLACKWELL
Out of Town: YES
Nearest Town: Wolf Island
Road Number:

Directions: S-31,T25,R17 Hwy 80

County:MISSISSIPPI
Cemetery: Dogwood
Out of Town: YES
Nearest Town: Dogwood/Bertrand
Road Number: Hwy B

Directions: Dogwood community (many, many years ago referred to as "Sands"), located abt. 5 mi South of Bertrand, spreads out around (and is mostly "off") Highway B, a two laned black-top. There is a "S" curve and the speed-limit goes down as B approaches a store on one side and the Dogwood Methodist Church on the other, in addition to a few houses. (It is a crossroads of sorts with paved roads leading in the other directions. (It should be noted that one may reach the town of East prairie by continuing south on the Highway). The cemetery (called "Dogwood cemetery" even when the community was "Sands") is on church grounds (I believe) on the South side of and adjacent to the Church. Once you enter, the road divides to the east and west and there are roads branching off to the South so that different parts of the cemetery may be reached.

The roads are very narrow and driving must be very slow. The grounds are well kept. It should be noted that, according to Alberta, in the oldest section there are some unmarked graves, and if there was no marker placed, there is also no record available. Thus, some people may be buried there which are unknown.

Cemetery: East Prairie Memorial Park transcription

In Town: YES

Nearest Town: East Prairie, MO

Road Number: HWY 80

Directions: The East Prairie Memorial Park Cemetery is located in East Prairie Missouri where Hwy's 80 and 105 meet. From my knowledge, this cemetery is the only one located in the city limits of East Prairie.

County: MISSISSIPPI

Cemetery: East Prairie Memorial Cemetery

In Town: YES

Out of Town:

Nearest Town: East Prairie

Road Number: Highway 80 West

Directions: The cemetery is not located at 105 and Hwy 80. The cemetery is actually on Hwy 80 West after intersection with 105. Coming from Charleston on 105, 105 kind of blends into Hwy 80, the cemetery is just down on the right on hwy 80 west.
